

WHAT IS THE GO DECISION?

This is the term used by IRP Student for the process to determine if the program is ready to launch Workday Student. The GO DECISION involves rigorous checks based on a pre-approved set of criteria called the “GO DECISION Criteria”, to ensure the system and UBC are ready.

KEY TAKE AWAYS

- UBC’s Classic Student Information System is near end-of-life and must be replaced
- IRP Student is on track to deliver Workday Student Launch 1 in October 2023!
- The Go Decision is reviewed through all levels of IRP Student Leadership and UBC Governance
- The Go Decision does not determine if UBC implements Workday, but rather, when
- If the result is “Not Yet”, a new Launch plan will be made. Classic SIS will continue to be used as the system of record for another academic year
- A critical piece of the Go Decision includes assessing the risks and benefits of the “GO” and “NOT YET” scenarios
- After Launch, Workday Student will continue to evolve. IRP Student will work through continuous improvements to the system
